Ripple Grove Press is an independent, family-run children's picture book publisher.

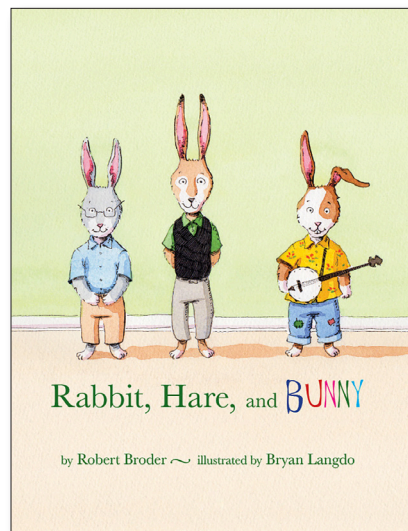

We started Ripple Grove Press because we have a passion for well-told and beautifully illustrated stories for children.

Our mission is to bring talented writers and illustrators together, to make the most wonderful books possible.

We are excited to celebrate our five years making picture books. Thank you to our readers, young and old, for making this possible, supporting our small press, and guiding us in finding that next story.
